PUBLIC ALERT DURING CIVIL DEFENSE TEST

Public participation in the Civil Defense test here Friday afternoon was described by William G. Weaver, county director of Civil Defense, as "very good."

When fire sirens and factory whistles sounded the warbling red "take cover" signal at 1:55 Friday afternoon, traffic in towns stopped and pedestrians disappeared from streets.

Borough and fire police in rain coats and rubber boots posted themselves at intersections covering all of the main streets into the town and stopped traffic in the pouring rain.

The same cooperation was experienced in most county towns and in York Springs the Civil Defense police held up a southbound national Guard convoy. Only Biglerville reported traffic moving during the test. Police were reported not on duty in the streets there.

Director Weaver praised the cooperation of Civil Defense staff members, police and fire departments and particularly the representatives of the welfare services who reported at the engine house here to take care of—on paper—thousands of refugees sent here from York which was "hit" in the enemy nuclear attack that laid waste 73 U. S. cities in Friday's test.

Send Refugees Here
Mrs. Pearl Wiser and Mrs. John Diehl made telephone contacts with previously set up contacts and soon reported that "we can feed and house 4,100 refugees and can give emergency food to others who will be passed on to other towns for shelter."

The telephone report received at the county control center was that "6,000 to 7,000 refugees were en route here from York via Routes 30, 116 and 234."

The county center was in frequent touch with the state control center by telephone and was notified variously: that Governor Leader had taken over full command of all emergency units; that radiological instruments were being flown here and asked an immediate reply on the location of the local airport. Weaver sent a reply to the state officials by way of Charles Kranias and his short wave radio giving the location of the airport.

Warning On Schedule
In advance of the time for the test Friday afternoon, factory personnel had been directed to sound their whistles at 1:55 p.m. without any further directions from C-D. The "timed test" went off on schedule and as the red warning flashed through from the state center to the engine house here sirens sounded all over the county.

All fire department radios throughout the county were manned and were in constant touch with the county control center.

The state sanitarian for Adams County and the state clinic at the hospital reported to say they were ready for emergency duty.

About 2:30 p.m. the county center was told by state headquarters that no radioactive fallout was expected in this area from bomb hits to the east, north and west. At 2:55 p.m. the county center received word there had been nuclear bomb attacks on York and Johnstown. The message about the York refugees followed a short time later.

Fire Police On Duty
Borough Officer Charles W. Culp Jr., who is captain of the county fire police, had six of the fire police on principal intersections near the edge of town. Borough police were on duty at other intersection and in the center of town.

The test was conducted in a heavy downpour of rain. Director Weaver gathered radio and telephone reports after the test and today is submitting a written report on the test in Adams County to state headquarters.

Reports were being gathered today, too, on the effectiveness of the first "Conelrad" test from 4:10 to 4:25 p.m. Friday in which Gettysburg's WGET participated. Along with many radio stations across the nation, WGET left its regular broadcast frequency and shifted to 1240 to broadcast emergency news during the test. Initial reports were that the signal was strong and received well throughout the area.

Borough Officers Check Two Crashes

Two accidents Friday resulted in damages of about $75 each to cars owned by two Gettysburg residents, John Fox, 29 E. Lincoln Ave., and Dr. David C. Stoner, 20 W. Middle St.

A car driven by John Fox was struck by a car operated by Frederick A. Furney, R. 1, at a service station on Steinwehr Ave. Both cars received damages of about $75. The accident occurred about ten minutes after 12 Friday afternoon.

Dr. Stoner's car was damaged on the left front fender at 2:45 Friday afternoon while the car was parked in front of his office. Mrs. Margaret C. Musselman, Fairfield R. 1, hit the car as she was backing out of the Murphy store parking lot on W. Middle St. Both cars' damages were estimated at $75. Borough police are continuing the investigation.

Four Missing In Cloudburst And Flash Flood; 6 Injured

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Four persons disappeared in the churning waters of Galena Creek last night following a cloudburst and mountain flash flood.

Six other persons were injured as scattered floods covered a section of Reno, closed highways and wrecked automobiles over a wide section of western Nevada and the California High Sierra.

All the missing persons were lost when Galena Creek cut a ravine through the Mt. Rose road between here and Lake Tahoe. The flood also closed a nearby section of U.S. Highway 395, the main north-south route through western Nevada and eastern California.

Floods In East
Elsewhere, heavy rainstorms in western Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania caused local floods and one death—a 5-year-old boy drowned after falling off a water-covered bridge in Charlottesville, Va.

Matt Wachowicz of Sacramento, Calif., was found only slightly injured five miles downstream from the point where Galena Creek washed his car off the road.

EXTRA RAINS AID FARMERS; SLOW HARVEST

The frequent summer showers that have pushed rainfall totals above normal for both June and July have brought some problems for Adams County farmers and fruit growers but County Agent Frank S. Zettle thinks that the benefits probable have outweighed the losses — provided the excessive rains do not continue too long.

The hay crop has probably suffered the most and some farmers have had difficulty in cultivating corn and getting into wheat fields with combines while tomato and fruit growers point out that the cool, wet weather has been favorable to the development of many of the most troublesome diseases.

However the showers that soaked many fields of hay last month and in early July have made the prospects for second crops better than at any time in the last two summers. Zettle pointed out. Those second hay mowings are expected to offset loss in quality in the first cuttings that got wet between mowing and baling.

Pastures Excellent
A lot of wheat has not yet been harvested. In some cases fields are too wet for the heavy machinery to traverse them but in the northern part of the county some farmers have not been in a hurry to combine the grain that is not yet overripe. Some barley was spoiled because of the wet weather at its harvest time. Wheat that has been harvested is generally of good quality and the yield has been "good."

Some oats fields are very good although sowing in some instances was retarded by the wet spring but rains generally have helped the growth of the oats.

Pastures have been excellent and where the pastures were seeded this spring their growth has been exceptional, the county agent said.

Corn Prospects Good
Corn is growing fast and prospects are very good. Corn that was planted in time looks better than average. Some of it is "on the weeds side" where weed-killing sprays were not used and where the ground was too wet to permit cultivation. More spraying of corn fields was done in the county this year than ever before but there still was "not as much as there should have been," Zettle said.

Tomatoes being grown commercially in the county are generally in "excellent shape," Zettle said, in spite of the fact that they got a late start because of the cold weather. The weather has been favorable to tomato diseases but adequate spraying schedules have kept tomato fields coming along very well. Early peas, grown commercially, were pretty nearly a complete crop.

July Rainfall Nears Double Normal Total

The showers that began Friday morning and continued through most of the day and much of Friday night brought Gettysburg 2.63 inches of rain—only about an inch short of as much rain as Gettysburg receives in an entire "normal" month of July.

The total so far this month is 7.7 inches. Normal for July is 3.89 inches.

It was the heaviest rainfall for any 24-hour period so far this year and the second rain of more than two inches this month.

LOCAL FARMERS OPPOSE WHEAT MARKET QUOTAS

Adams County wheat farmers went on record again Friday as being against wheat marketing quotas for 1957 but farmers across the nation voted overwhelmingly for them in the referendum.

Only about a fifth of the Adams County farmers who were eligible went to the five voting places that had been set up for the 11-hour voting period.

The tabulation after the polls closed at 9 p.m. Friday showed 53 voted against the quotas and 25 voted for them. There were 399 farmers eligible to vote.

The question on the ballot was: "Are you in favor of marketing quotas for wheat for the 1957 crop?"

Only in the Fairfield district did the farmers favor the quotas and that was by a vote of four to three. The results at the other voting places follow: Gettysburg, 9 for and 12 against; Littlestown, five for and 12 against; New Oxford, five for and 10 against; York Springs, two for and 12 against; and Biglerville, none for and six against.

Farmers in York County also voted against the quotas and did farmers generally over Pennsylvania but nationally the vote was in favor of the quotas by much more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

Farmers who would harvest more than 15 acres of wheat for grain next year were eligible to vote in Friday's referendum.

OLD CATOCTIN ESTATE IS SOLD FOR $151,000

More than 900 acres of mountain land and several lodges, which Atty. Kingman Brewster, Washington, maintained for a number of years as a game preserve, have changed hands in one of the largest real estate transactions to take place in the Thurmont, Md., area recently, a deed filed for recording in the office of the Frederick County Clerk of the Circuit Court showed recently.

The property, located in the mountains west of Catoctin Furnace, has been sold by K-B Ranch, Inc., formed by Brewster, to Mrs. Florence R. Ewald and her son, Gerald R. Ewald, for approximately $151,000.

The big tract, which was developed into one of the mountain showplaces of the county 20 years ago and once housed the only milk farm in Maryland, embraces 891 acres of what is known as the "Catoctin Furnace property" in the Thurmont District and 12 adjoining acres in Havers District which had been reserved to Blue Ridge Farms, Inc., another firm organized by Brewster.

Owned By Hoover Secretary
The main property in Thurmont District is only a part of "Catoctin Furnace Property." Lawrence Richey, secretary to the then President Hoover, bought the tract of more than 1,300 acres and subsequently sold part of it to Brewster. Richey in later years sold his remaining holdings, which embraced that part of the mountain preserve closest to U.S. 15, to Floyd Akers, Washington sportsman.

The deed filed for recording includes a right-of-way over lands formerly owned by the Potomac Hills Development Co. from the 891-acre tract to the state highway south of what was known as the old Catoctin Manor House, especially over an "old road or trail" as the same passed through the lands of Richey.

Mrs. Ewald is from Louisville, Ky., and reportedly plans to reside at the mountain preserve.

The area has some of the best hunting land and fishing streams in that section of Western Maryland. President Hoover used to visit the Richey preserve to fish.

NEW INSPECTION STICKERS MADE TAMPER-PROOF

Pennsylvania's new tamper-proof inspection stickers will make their first appearance on August 1, with the start of the three month inspection period for commercial vehicles, Secretary of Revenue Gerald A. Gleason announced today.

The sticker — the first change in type since the compulsory inspection program started 27 years ago — will be used on passenger vehicles with the November 1 inspection campaign, Secretary Gleason said. Booklets of the new stickers, along with affixing instructions, will be mailed to the more than 11,000 privately-owned official inspection stations starting Monday. The price per sticker to the inspection stations remains at 10 cents. This fee was established by an act of the 1953-55 General Assembly.

Greater Adhesion
The new stickers are composed of a paper backing laminated to a decalcomania front. This insures greater adhesion to the vehicle windshield and also eliminates the possibility of the stickers being removed and transferred to a vehicle that cannot pass the state's inspection standards.

The stickers must be soaked in water 30 to 45 seconds before being fixed. The old stickers, of the paper type with glue on the front, could not be immersed in water. Each of the new type stickers carries a serial number on the front which is imprinted on a small section of aluminum. If an attempt is made to remove the sticker from the windshield this aluminum portion disintegrates and the serial number is destroyed.

Change Application
A new standard for placement of the stickers on wrap-around windshields has been established by the Department of Revenue. This is in response to requests from police agencies for more prominent display of the stickers on such windshields. They will now be more readily seen for enforcement purposes. All inspection stations will be directed to place the inspection sticker on wrap-around windshields "four inches to the right of the windshield wiper cam on the passenger side of the vehicle." On all other types of windshields, the stickers will be placed in the lower right-hand corner.

TWO ACCIDENTS ON WET ROADS; TWO MEN HURT

At least two persons were injured in two accidents this morning on wet highways. Both were one-car crashes and both machines were badly damaged. State police from Gettysburg investigated.

Two men were taken to the Hanover Hospital after their car ran off the York Springs-Hanover Road a mile south of York Springs about 2:30 o'clock this morning. State police who investigated said Donald Tanger, operator of a York Springs diner, was driving toward York Springs when he lost control of his car on the wet road and it ran off the road and struck a bank. Damage was estimated at about $750.

Car Hits Pole, Overturns
Tanger has an injury to his back and lacerations and bruises. Billie M. Mays, aged 21, also of York Springs, suffered a severe scalp laceration and concussion.

A badly damaged car, registered in the name of Richard Leatherman, Littlestown R. 2, was towed to Gettysburg about 6:30 o'clock this morning by a tow truck from Swope's service station after the car had run off the Littlestown-Gettysburg highway about a mile north of Littlestown. The car struck a pole and turned over near Alloway's Creek.

Details were lacking today on the accident and it was not known whether any occupants of the car were injured.

STEEL STRIKE HAMPERS STATE ROAD SURFACING

The steel strike threatens to delay state highway road surfacing program for the summer in Adams County and Superintendent Wilbur V. Redding was in Harrisburg Thursday to see what can be done about projects that have been using stone from the Bethlehem quarries north of Hanover. The quarries have been closed down since the steel strike began.

The urgency of keeping stones available for the road work was pointed out by Mr. Redding, who said that any major delay would upset work schedules on the road work setup for the summer.

L. M. Hutchison, the contractor for the construction of the second section of the Littlestown-Hanover highway, had been getting stone from Bethlehem quarries and when the supply there was cut off he switched to the more distant Teeter quarries here in spite of the higher cost involved.

Some Sections Done
The state is bound by contract to take stone from the low bidder and contracts will have to be renegotiated to let the state buy from another quarry that is unaffected by the strike. The purchases are handled by the state Department of Property and Supply.

Thirty-five miles of state roads in the county are on the summer schedule for surfacing. Some of the work has been finished and a considerable part of that remaining was to make use of Bethlehem stone.

The road from Biglerville to Heidersburg already has been surfaced with a motor-paver and the work on that road is to be carried on east of Heidersburg to Route 94, north of Hampton. Motor-paver work is also scheduled north and south of Abbottstown.

Painting Six Bridges
Work is progressing on the road to Table Rock beyond Schriver's Crossroads and excavation and grading work is about finished there.

Another road contract job underway in the county is a three-quarter mile approach to the Little Pentagon in southwestern Adams County off Rt. 44. The contractor there has been getting from the Gilling quarries at Zora which are unaffected by the steel strike.

Six of the state's covered bridges in the county are being painted. They are being repainted with "drab" sides and aluminum roofs. Regular maintenance work and weed mowing continues.

73 Of Nation's Major Cities "Laid Waste" By Nuclear Attack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seventy-three of the nation's major cities were a theoretical wasteland today in the wake of a giant simulated nuclear attack. Millions were reported "killed" as mock enemy bombers smashed targets across the country yesterday. The biggest test in this hemisphere also affected Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

It was a grim rehearsal for a possible disaster that may strike any time.

New Problems Today
For most Americans the drill is already over. Civil Defense workers, however, were expected to tackle new problems today, the second day of the 50-hour exercise "Alert III."

Theoretically, there was enough time yesterday for the nation to brace itself for the enemy blow.

In Washington, President Eisenhower hurried into an emergency session of a temporarily enlarged National Security Council as soon as the sirens wailed "yellow alert" at 11 a.m. EDT.

30 Departments Scatter
More than 30-government departments sent skeleton staffs to secret relocation centers at "safe" distances from the capital.

Washington itself was theoretically evacuated at the time of the mock blast that would have seared the city.

Through an emergency press headquarters some 100 miles from the capital, the President authorized a "test" declaration of "unlimited national emergency and a state of war."

4 Millions "Dead"
The conduct of the test, designed to train Civil Defense, military and government personnel to cope with problems arising from a nuclear attack, varied in different cities. Some required public participation, some did not.

The wail of the sirens turned New York City into silent, eerie immobility for nine minutes. All traffic, vehicular and pedestrian, halted. Most airport operations paused.

Over four million persons were assumed to have been killed by the blast in the vast New York metropolitan area. Police arrested 17 pacifists in Manhattan who refused to take cover.

PRESIDENT IS WELCOMED BY PANAMA PREXY

PANAMA (AP)—President Eisenhower arrived here today for a get-together of the chiefs of state of the American republics aimed at strengthening the historic bonds of Pan-American friendship.

Eisenhower flew here from Washington to join the other presidents and presidents-elect at the hemisphere-parley commemorating the first Pan-American conference 130 years ago.

The plane which brought him from Washington touched down at 7:50 a.m. EST.

President Ricardo Arias Espinosa of Panama greeted the visiting U. S. President at the airport.

Eisenhower stepped onto the landing strip to the roar of a 21-gun presidential salute and accompanying honors.

Honor Guard Salutes

An honor guard of the Panama National Guard saluted and the band played the U. S. national anthem.

The conference will reach its climax tomorrow when the executives sign a "Declaration of Panama" calling for cooperation in solving economic problems and working for peace in a world "gravely threatened by totalitarianism."

The first one out of the plane behind Eisenhower was his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower. Next came Sherman Adams, and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who is the convalescent President's physician.

Greeted By Arias

Eisenhower wore a brown summer weight suit and carried a brown felt hat.

Arias greeted him with hand outstretched.

In a brief airport speech, President Eisenhower said it was a privilege for him not only to meet the other presidents at the conference but President Arias and his great people.

He said it was a privilege to come back to this country where "I served so long ago many of you were not even born." He recalled that he left Panama in 1904 after a tour of military service as a junior officer.

President Eisenhower said he was happy to join the presidents of the other American nations, "who celebrate this great event which took place 130 years ago."

Refers To Old Meeting

Eisenhower was referring to the American meeting called by South America's great liberator, Simon Bolivar, in 1826.

It also was a privilege, Eisenhower said, to come here to represent the people of the United States.

The President came down from the plane with a firm step. He looked somewhat pale but when he spoke his voice was clear and sharp.

After Eisenhower left the airport President Arias was heard to remark that he was glad to see Eisenhower in "good shape."

Panama cabinet ministers, officials of the Organization of American States and ranking military officers with U. S. armed forces in the Panama Canal Zone filed past the President and were introduced by Arias before Eisenhower left the air field.

"Fraternal Embrace"

Arias, in his welcoming remarks, first addressed Eisenhower in Spanish.

"In setting foot on Isthmus soil, to you Mr. President a cordial greeting and a fraternal embrace on behalf of the government and the people of Panama," Arias said.

"All of us feel highly honored by the distinction accorded to us by the chiefs of states of the American republics. Their presence here at this rendezvous with history, President Eisenhower, is particularly pleasing to the people of Panama who see in you the greatest exponent of the hope of the American continent in the struggle with all its available resources to assure peace and to attain a better life and the dignity that every human being deserves."

Dulles Meets President

Then reverting to English, Arias said:

"Mr. President I welcome you with open arms."

The welcoming party included U. S. Secretary of State Dulles who beat Eisenhower into Tucuman airport by 20 minutes.

After the ceremonies were concluded, Arias escorted Eisenhower to the bubble-topped car especially shipped to Panama. It carried Dulles and Eisenhower to the U. S. Embassy. A motorcade of about 15 cars followed Eisenhower's automobile.

Eisenhower will meet the other American presidents already here in Panama's Presidential Palace at 11 a.m.

The conference will reach its climax tomorrow when the executives sign a "Declaration of Panama" calling for cooperation in solving economic problems and working for peace in a world "gravely threatened by totalitarian forces."

Ike Speaks Sunday

Today was "get acquainted day," renewing old friendships and making new ones. The conference has no formal agenda—only assorted ceremonies, speeches and fraternizing.

The trip offered Eisenhower a

Don't market overweight hogs.

No other practice has a more consistent record for weakening the hog market. Heavy hogs use up the reserve feed supply, and eat more feed per pound of gain. Heavy hogs produce pork that consumers refuse. Oversized cuts are usually too fat, producers thus provide customers with two good reasons for rejecting such pork and forcing it to a bargain counter.

Too many heavy hogs will also depress the market, and a few extra meat-type hogs sold at 200-pound weights are apt to be absorbed by the trade at satisfactory prices, if heavy hogs are not marketed.

Market prices serve as an expression of supply and demand, not just the total of each, but the kind of supply and kind of demand. The average American will eat eighty pounds of pork per capita per year, but doesn't care for much of it in the form of salt pork from heavy hogs. Likewise, there's a world of difference between three 200-pound meat hogs and two 300-pound fat hogs. The tonnage is the same, but the kind of supply is in sharp contrast.

Temptations To Feed

The temptation to feed hogs to heavy weights is ever present. And periodically a short supply of heavy hogs pulls their market price close to the market top. Invariably a rash of short sighted advice to feed heavy weight follows, and sadly enough, too often those guilty of this misguided advice are well informed people. Normally those who take the advice find the price differential re-established before they decide to sell and the gamble fails again. Furthermore, the discount on a 300-pound hog is three times as great as it seems. It applies to the original 200 pounds as well as the pounds over that mark.

Selling at correct weights is the easiest and surest way to realize the best price from the market.

Control Earworm Damage

This damage can be reduced by sprays or dusts used properly. Start applying an insecticide to the silks 5-7 days after they first appear. Make a second application five days after the first application. In seasons of prolonged silking, a third treatment will be needed.

In using hand equipment, hold the nozzle 6-8 inches from the ear as the operator moves along the row. This distance will give a band of spray about 18 inches wide, or sufficient to cover the ear section of the stalk. On fixed nozzle or power equipment, the nozzles are adjusted to direct the spray or dust at a slight downward angle to cover an 18 inch band at the ear level.

For hand sprayers use the following mixture: 1/4 pint of DDT 25 per cent emulsion mixed with 1/2 pint of white mineral oil and added to 1 gallon of water. Mineral oil can be purchased at any drugstore.

For large sprayers, use 3 quarts of 25 per cent DDT emulsion mixed with 6 quarts of mineral oil (65-95 seconds Saybolt) and added to 25 gallons of water. This will be sufficient mixture to apply one application to one acre.

For growers wishing to dust, use DDT 5 per cent at the rate of 40 pounds per acre. Dusting may be more convenient but is slightly less effective than spray.

CAROL MORRIS, IOWA, IS VOTED MISS UNIVERSE

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A tall, trim Iowa girl, who came here a week ago with ambitions of becoming a school teacher, was acclaimed today as Miss Universe of 1957.

For Carol Morris, 20, the award complete an unprecedented sweep of top honors in the international beauty contest. She was first named the most popular girl in the opening day parade and then went on to win the title of Miss United States.

Last night the dark-haired blue-eyed beauty from the Middle West matched her charms against those of 14 girls from other nations and again came out on top. Germany's Marina Orschel placed second in the final judging, Ingrid Goude of Sweden was third, Iris Waller, England, fourth, and Rosanna Galli, Italy, fifth.

When Miss Morris won the Miss USA title Wednesday she said she had wished upon a star. Last night she had another good luck charm working for her.

Carried Lucky Penny

Her father, the Rev. LaVerne Morris of Ottumwa, Iowa, who flew in with his wife, disclosed that for three weeks he has been carrying a penny in the toe of his shoe.

Among the prizes won by the new Miss Universe is a six-month motion picture contract at $250 a week. Rev. Morris made it clear he is not too keen on his daughter entering the movies.

He said he wanted Carol, a junior at Drake University, to complete her college education and go on with her plan to become an elementary school teacher.

Miss Morris, a champion swimmer, is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 129 pounds and measures 36-25-36.

In addition to the movie contract, she won a three-month personal appearance contract with a bathing suit manufacturer at $250 a week, a convertible coupe, a white fox stole and several lesser prizes.

Reception Is Held

Mrs. Rosensteel, mother of the bride, wore a gown of dusty rose silk with black and white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli and pink baby's-breath. Mrs. Arnold, the bridegroom's mother, appeared in a blue and white dotted Swiss dress with blue and white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli and blue baby's-breath. Mrs. John F. Kelley, the bride's grandmother, who resides at the home of the bride, wore a blue polka-dotted taffeta gown with blue and white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli and baby's-breath.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Charles Rowe Annex of the VFW Home, Center Square, Emmitsburg, for 250 guests. Later the couple will leave on a week's honeymoon through the New England states. As a going-away ensemble the bride will wear a green broadcloth dress with white accessories and a white orchid and baby's-breath corsage. They will make their home at College Park, Md., where the bridegroom is employed as a herdsman at the University of Maryland. He received a B.A. degree in June from the university in animal husbandry and will begin work on his master's degree in September.

The bride, who was graduated from St. Joseph College with the degree of B.S. in business education in June, was a secretary to Rev. Fr. Salvator M. Burgio, C. M., vice postulator of the Cause of Mother Seton Guild, Emmitsburg, until recently.

Out-of-town guests were from New York, Washington, D. C., Rhode Island, New Jersey, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Japs Say U. S. Fired 8th Nuclear Blast

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese weather bureau said the United States today set off its eighth nuclear blast of its current test series in the southwest Pacific.

The bureau said the explosion at the U.S. test area at Bikini Atoll was more powerful than the first of the explosions in the series, May 21, but less powerful than an explosion July 11.

The May 21 blast was watched by American newsmen. The United States has neither confirmed nor denied Japanese reports of subsequent explosions.

TRIAL RECESSED FOR "MYSTERY" TRIP BY BERMAN

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—A mysterious trip by defense attorney Emile Zola Berman left the court-martial of Marine S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon in weekend recess here today.

McKeon is on trial because of the tragic night march he led into a swamp here April 8. Six of the 74 recruits on that march drowned. Berman asked for and got yesterday a cancellation of today's scheduled session because he said he had to make a flying trip in connection with the case.

Won't Say Where

A defense spokesman declined to say where Berman was going and whom he will see. He did indicate that the mystery trip is in connection with potential testimony or evidence in the case.

The story of the tragic march that McKeon led was unfolded from the stand yesterday in the command-crisp voices of Marine combat veterans and the hesitant tones of youth.

The session saw McKeon's senior drill instructor describe him as "outstanding" and the court hold that Marine training methods of the past could be introduced in evidence.

Survivors On Stand

Specifically McKeon is charged with involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits and drinking on duty. He is not charged, however, with being drunk.

DITHANE puts the "finishing touch" on apples

DITHANE Z-78 (zineb) is officially recommended to apple growers for late cover sprays.

The experiment stations of

include DITHANE Z-78 (zineb) in all their apple spray schedules for summer diseases.

Last year summer diseases of apples were quite severe, and in many cases the fungicide used did not give satisfactory control. This is a matter of record—and one reason for the revised recommendation for 1956.

DITHANE Z-78 controls Brooks spot, apple blotch, sooty blotch, bitter rot, Botryosphaeria rot, and black rot. It also gives effective protection against fly speck and secondary scab. DITHANE Z-78 does all this without harming the fruit finish when used as recommended. And the foliage grows particularly luxuriant and green.

Isn't it good sense to profit by this experience? When the official spray schedule calls for zineb, it will pay you to ask your dealer for DITHANE Z-78—the original zineb formulation, relied on for years in many orchards of the Shenandoah-Cumberland apple areas.

The Fissel Insurance agency, Masonic building, center square, which was founded by the late George C. Fissel in 1917, has been purchased by George C. Fissel, son of the founder, and Jacob C. Britcher, both of Gettysburg, according to an announcement in Tuesday's edition of The Gettysburg Times.

88 Bahamians Arrive: Will Help Farmers: Eighty-eight residents of the Bahamas arrived Monday evening at the former Camp Sharpe site on West Confederate avenue to work as laborers on a number of orchards and farms in the county until November.

The men were secured through the United States Department of Agriculture, War Foods Administration labor office, and will work, for the most part, during July, for seven local fruit growers.

The largest single group, 30 of the men, will be employed by L. Z. Musselman, Orlanina. Twenty will be employed by S. L. Baltzley, McKnightstown; 15 will work for B. E. Benner, Fairfield. Other employers of the imported workers during July include H. G. Baugher, Aspers; Frederic E. Griest, Flora Dale; Harry Stohr, Fairfield and W. E. Enck, Biglerville.

State Asks Bids For Steel Span Over Rock Creek: The 192-foot "covered" bridge over Rock Creek in the townships of Cumberland and Mt. Joy is to be reconstructed as a steel girder structure and the state highway department will advertise and receive bids for the new bridge August 16, it was announced today.

The bridge is on legislative highway No. 01066, a mile above the Maryland line near Harney, about a mile west of the Taneytown road. A span of the bridge dropped 22 feet into the river last December 29 and was swept downstream. The bridge is said to have been erected as a single span in 1880.

THE LOVE OF WONDER

Each day I grow older in youth! All my life I have been obsessed with a love of wonder. Every glow of the morning sun and every riot of beauty in a sunset stir me, no matter how many thousands I have witnessed. A star dancing upon the lake on a clear night, and the path of all the stars are sights that always fill me with wonder. Even a blade of grass is a miracle to me, and every tree and flower carries a blessing.

Birth in all life is more than a mystery. It is a natural miracle. From my library window I look upon great trees full of life and foliage that was absent during the winter months, but even then, when the branches held in their arms great coverings of snow, I saw beauty and in my heart was a love of wonder. With comparatively little we can be so rich!

Why should anyone be filled with fears and doubts when there is so much in life that has no acquaintance with them? Our Heavenly Father has an eye upon all, both good and bad, and His justice is meted out without prejudice or partiality. His government is one of love, and His Kingdom is here and now.

How thrilling are kindness, consideration for others, and the glow in one's heart when a good deed is performed! The flight of a bird, a group of wild ferns, a bird-song in the forest, how can any of these be anything but the echo of the divine in life? A love of wonder enriches them upon one's consciousness. My mind always goes upon a brief vacation whenever I pass a hillside of mountain laurel. The love of wonder fills us with all confusions there is a shining light if you let it into your heart. That is the only genuine happiness.

SUCCESS

This is success: to live beyond deceit.

Too big to play the liar or the cheat.

Too big to learn when burdens heavy grow.

Asking no favor from a friend or foe.

Standing to life and all that it may mean.

With head erect and hands and conscience clear.

This is success: to live from year to year.

Not asking always sunny skies and clear.

But wise enough to know and understand.

Life never runs exactly as we've planned;

Seeking the best, but when the worst is met.

Taking the blow without too much regret.

This is success: with all to play the friend.

Willing to give and glad at times to lend.

Laughing and singing whensoever

you may.

But walking bravely through the rainy day.

Giving your best throughout the passing years.

Neither deceived by flattery nor by sneers.

This is success: the love of friends to win.

To taste no pleasure that may lead to sin.

To take no profit from the hand of shame.

But by a fair fight win or lose the game;

To get from life such triumphs as you can.

But still, through good or ill, to play the man.

WOULD CHOP OFF NEW ARMS AID TO YUGOSLAVIA

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's two top Republican leaders led today a fight to chop off all new arms aid to Yugoslavia after helping win the administration's battle for $2,300,000,000 in military assistance.

Republican leader Knowland (Calif.) and Sen. Bridges (N.H.), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, joined yesterday with Senate Democratic leader Johnson (Tex.) in beating back attempts to cut military aid.

But they switched position for today's voting on proposals to cut off any more U.S. arms help to Yugoslavia. The Eisenhower administration opposes these anti-Yugoslav moves. It objects to going any further than the discretionary powers on the subject which Congress gave it in earlier legislation.

Might "Push Tito"

Sen. Ellender (D-La.), spearhead of all the fights to cut general military assistance funds, said in an interview he would oppose an amendment by Knowland, Bridges and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) to withhold from Marshal Tito all new military equipment, including jet fighters already in the pipeline, and limit future help to maintenance and spare parts for equipment he already has.

Ellender said he feared such action "might push Tito into Moscow's arms."

But Ellender, loser in three efforts to cut military aid by as much as $65 million dollars, said he would concentrate today on attempts to cut defense supports and economic assistance by 10 per cent.

Some Close Votes

Several votes last night were close and marked by vote-switching and parliamentary maneuverings.

In the final roll call of a session that lasted almost 12 hours, the Senate ended the fight over military assistance by approving its appropriations committee's figure of $2,300,000,000 by a 50-39 vote.

On this roll call, 18 Democrats and 32 Republicans voted "aye" and 26 Democrats and 13 Republicans voted "no."

PLANES COLLIDE, 4 DIE

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP)—Two small planes that took off from separate but converging runways at Lakeside Airport collided last night, killing four persons, including two St. Louis business executives.

The victims were Arthur J. Brauer, president of the Brauer Brothers Shoe Co.; his daughter, Becky, 15; Albert Johnson, 41, chief engineer of the Continental Boiler Co., and his wife.

The two planes collided at an altitude of about 150 feet.

Every third person employed in the U.S. today is a woman, reports the National Industrial Conference Board.

Totem Pole Plays "The Rainmaker"

Sada Thompson, who will be remembered by Totem Pole Playhouse audiences for her performance in "Peg O' My Heart" during the 1954 season, returns to the Caledonia summer theater to star in "The Rainmaker," a romantic comedy by N. Richard Nash. The play opens Monday and will continue thru July 28.

Miss Thompson will be seen as a plain-Jane type in her late twenties, unmarried and unwooded, living on a ranch in an unnamed western state with her father and two brothers who are worried and bumblingly trying to be helpful about her spinsterish state.

The comedy is concerned with what happens when a boisterous highbinder with a big brass drum comes to the drought-stricken ranch and promises to create longed-for rains — rain for the parched land and romance for the parched lady.

HOUSE TO PASS C.R. BILL MONDAY

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The House has cleared the way for passage of the civil rights bill Monday, but a leading Southern opponent said today:

"They won the battle; we won the war."

By this, Rep. Willis (D-La.) meant that while the bill is considered certain to pass the House by a comfortable majority, it is considered just as certain to die in the Senate as Congress rushes toward adjournment late next week.

Nevertheless, Rep. Keating of New York, who led Republican supporters of the bill, insisted "the House leadership is in a position of control. It should decline to assent to adjournment until the Senate has acted one way or the other on this key measure of the President's program."

There appeared little likelihood this would happen.

The House completed four days of debate on the bill yesterday and gave it tentative approval.

Supporters beat off most amendments, and in test votes they demonstrated they will have votes to spare when final action is taken Monday.

Much of the heat went out of the debate yesterday when the Southerners, satisfied that an agreement to vote Monday would accomplish their major purpose of delay, dropped their filibustering tactics.

CHICAGO HOPES SALK VACCINE WILL CURB POLIO

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago, hard hit by an early outbreak of polio, struck back with widespread inoculations with Salk vaccine today in a dramatic effort to head off an epidemic.

Health officials expressed confidence the Salk vaccine — could keep the outbreak under control if enough people receive the shots.

"I would like to see a half million children vaccinated," said Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Board of Health.

With the reporting of 19 new cases yesterday, Chicago's total for the year came to 245—including five deaths. At this time last year, only 38 cases had been reported, with two deaths.

Of the 245 Chicago cases, about half have come from a relatively small tenement area on the West Side. The disease has stricken particularly children under five years of age.

The city has four full-time inoculation centers operating. Officials estimate that since July 12 about 20,000 children have been given the Salk vaccine. Two more centers will be opened Monday.

"In order to prevent an epidemic of polio, it will be necessary to get the population thoroughly inoculated, particularly the smaller children," Bundesen declared.

Florida KKK Will Hold Rally Tonight

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan will gather its forces here tonight for the first statewide rally of the hooded organization in several years.

The Klan has announced it will be "an old time speaking rally and cross burning." About 2,000 members are expected to be on hand at a leased site north of the city to hear a minister, two lawyers and others talk on white supremacy and world conditions. At the same time the Negro congregation of St. Luke's Free Will Baptist Church will hold a mass meeting to pray for the Klan. The Rev. O. L. Williams said the purpose of the prayers will be to strengthen the spread of Christian love for one another.

Newcombe Pitches His 13th Victory As Brooklyn Beats Cards 4-1; Bob Buhl 12th As Braves Swamp Phillies

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Where in the world would the World Champion Brooklyn Dodgers be in that National League without big Don Newcombe? Or without the St. Louis Cardinals, for that matter.

Newk and the Cards have become regular meateaters for the so-called "gutless wonders." The strapping righthander has been manager Walt Alton's stopper and the Redbirds, who once staged those thrilling pennant scraps with the Braves, are keeping the Dodgers healthy.

After dropping two of three at Cincinnati and slipping six games behind the leaders, Brooklyn stopped the skid with a 4-1 decision over the Cards last night as Newcombe pitched a five-hitter for his 13th victory. It was Newk's seventh straight over the Cardinals, who haven't beaten him since August 1951. It also was the eighth victory in 11 games with St. Louis for third place Brooklyn.

Braves Hold Edge
Milwaukee retained its two-game edge with Bob Buhl tossing a two-hitter for his 12th victory and Hank Aaron pumping across four runs in a 1-0 frolic against Philadelphia as the Braves held the lead in the National League.

Stan Musial was the only Card to give Newcombe any trouble, lining his 17th home run and a single in three trips. Newk got the first of four third-inning singles as the Dodgers scored three to beat Tom Poholsky. Pee Wee Reese had four hits—including his fifth home run.

Pittsburgh scored four runs on six hits in four innings against Don Gross, but the Redlegs finally drew even as Ted Klusowski walloped a three-run homer in the fifth, his 24th, and Wally Post smacked his 17th in the seventh to tie it. Burgess' breakup blow came off reliever Fred Waters. Johnny Klipsch won in relief.

Monte Irvin, the ex-Jar, hit his 9th and 10th homers for the Cubs as Jim Brosnan won his third. Windy McCall lost it. The Giants have dropped 10 of 11 to sink deep into the cellar.

The Tigers pounded 15 hits, three by Charley Maxwell who drove in two runs, to hand the Red Sox their second straight defeat after a 10-2 streak. Virgil Trucks won his fourth with Willard Nixon losing his fourth.

UNKNOWN OUSTS TOMMY BOLT AT CANTON, MASS.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
CANTON, Mass. (AP)—Remember Lee Mackey Jr., the unknown from Birmingham, Ala., who shot a record 64 in the first round of the National Open Golf Championship at Merion in 1950 and then disappeared into obscurity?

Charles Prentice, a boyhood buddy of Mackey, pulled the same sort of stunt in the first round of the PGA championship at Blue Hill when he eliminated Tommy Bolt, the short-tempered Texan rated among the top tournament favorites.

But unlike Mackey, who faded almost out of sight the day after his record feat, Prentice, who plays out of Columbia, S.C., figures to be around a while longer.

Ed Oliver Loses
His opponent in the second round this morning was Chuck Du Pree, a 38-year-old Independence, Mo., pro also playing in his first PGA championship. A victory there would send Prentice up against either Al Smith, a very slightly surprising conqueror of ex-champion Vic Ghezzi in a 22-hole match, or Teri Johnson, a 46-year-old club pro from Wilmington, Del. Charlie doesn't figure to run into another "name" player before Sunday's double round.

Apart from the defeat that sent Bolt home muttering to himself and refusing to talk to writers, the first day's surprises were rather mild.

Ed (Porky) Oliver, the home club pro and a tournament player of considerable stature ran into long-hitting Mike Krak of Steubenville, Ohio, a solid player who shot two-under-par golf for 16 holes and won, 3 and 2.

Some Bad Moments
Stolid Henry Williams Jr., runner-up to Chandler Harper in 1950, carried 1954 winner Chick Harbert to the 20th hole in one of the day's best matches before he was beaten. Felipe Torza, the little "tiger" who went to the finals against Walter Burkemo in 1953, yielded, 2 and 1, to steady Freddie Hawkins.

Some of the stars had a few bad moments on the 6,634-yard, par 36-35-71 Blue Hill course. WILLIAMS IS MAD AT PRESS, "PUBLICLY"

By FARLEY MANNING
EYES AND SIGHT

There is considerable argument among dog fanciers as to whether dogs are color-blind or not, and as to how distinctly they can see.

Most authorities agree that they are color-blind; that everything they look at to them seems to be some shade or other of what we human beings call gray. If a dog distinguishes, say, the red from the green from the yellow in a changing traffic light, it is probably the difference of the depth of each grayness.

Sight-hounds—dogs of the several breeds of the general greyhound family—seem to have vision as sharp as a Plains Indian's. Certainly they distinguish and pursue game by use of their noses, not their eyes. But most researchers are convinced that it is general outline, not the specific detail by which we distinguish, say, an antelope or a deer, and particularly movement, that a greyhound "perceives" with his eyes. That is why a racing greyhound is as satisfied to pursue a mechanical rabbit as he is the real thing.

Scout-hounds — beagles, coonhounds, foxhounds, bloodhounds, etc. — depend on their noses so completely that often quarry which such a dog is pursuing can run right past the pursuer's eyes without distracting the dog's attention from the track left by the pursued animal's scent. Authorities agree that all dogs use their sense of scent and their ears for most of the purposes that people use their eyes.

Nevertheless no dog whose sight is failing or who has become blind is as happy as before his sight was impaired. Consequently correct care of a dog's eyes is extremely important. Any eye injury should be treated instantly by the best eye doctor available. This specifically includes ulcers which often result from eye injuries which are otherwise slight, dust or similar eye irritations, and cataracts.

The Brooklyn Dodgers used more baseballs in 1955 — well over 12,000 — than the entire National League used in 1876, its first year.

To Swim Lake Erie Today In Handcuffs

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Endurance swimmer Wesley R. Struble of Newark, N.Y., was braced today for a 12½-mile swim across Lake Erie in handcuffs.

The 30-year-old father of four children was scheduled to enter the lake at nearby Angola and swim to the amusement park at Crystal Beach, Ontario.

Greta Patterson, a Batavia schoolgirl, made the swim last year in regular fashion in 13 hours. Struble hopes to do it manacled in nine. He will wear fins on his feet.

Seixas Seeded First In Tennis Tourney

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP)—Vic Seixas of Philadelphia today was seeded first in a field of 64 players for the 57th annual Pennsylvania state grass court tennis championship starting Monday at Merion Cricket Club.

Seixas will be in pursuit of a title he has held six times in the past. The recent Wimbledon semi-finalist yielded his state crown last year to Tony Trabert, who is now in professional ranks.

Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., will defend the 56th annual Pennsylvania and Eastern States women's lawn tennis championship, which also begins tomorrow. Miss Brough was seeded first in a field limited to 64 players.

MARCIANO IS "PING" HITTER WITH GOLF CLUB

CANTON, Mass. (AP)—Retired Marciano has been bitten by the golf bug but, he acknowledges embarrassedly, he's not a "big knocker."

"I'm just a ping hitter off the tee," the Brockton shoemaker's son said today. "I wind up and hit it and—well, 150 yards if I'm lucky."

Marciano said he's been getting some tips from Jimmy Demaret, the stylish pro of Klamath Lake, N.Y.

"Jimmy expected me to try to kill the ball," Rocky said, "but instead I give it just a ladylike whack."

Rocky said he played golf regularly until the recent unique accident at home where he slipped a disc in his back while playing with his young daughter.

Back In Cast
"Every chance I got I was out on the course and I'll be out there again when I'm able," he added.

Marciano, serving as scores chairman for the Professional Golfers Assn. Tournament here, is trudging around with his back in a cast.

"The doctors want me to undergo an operation, say that's the only way it'll heal," Marciano said. "But I won't do it. I think I'll heal myself."

The undefeated champion weighs 212 pounds, compared with his best fighting weight of 186, and is insistent that he'll never try to come back.

"Everybody says I'll go for another of those big paydays when another champion has been named. I assure you I won't. I have made a promise to my family and I pride myself on my word."

YOST MAY TOP RUTH'S MARK OF BASES ON BALLS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Let the rest talk about Mickey Mantle. In Washington, it's Eddie Yost who is assaulting Babe Ruth's record.

Not the Babe's unequalled 60 home runs of 1927—but Ruth's 170 walks in 1923.

No other ball player has received so many bases on balls. But Yost, Washington's third baseman, is a real threat. With 65 games to go, he's been passed 97 times.

How come he is walked so often? Yost is no runt. He stands 5 feet 10. The homer hitting Ruth may have struck fear in pitchers' hearts but Yost's record with the bat is not such as to draw many intentional passes. Right now he's batting .260, and he's hit only seven homers.

Slammed Two Homers
To Jim Wilson, the Chicago righthander, the answer is "mainly in the pitcher's mind."

Yost has a reputation for a good eye excellent bat control and coordination. Night before last he slammed two homers against Cleveland, the second one winning the game.

"A pitcher thinks about that," Wilson said today. "You know he can size up a pitcher and you also know you can't come down the middle on him because he hits well enough to hurt you."

"The umpires also know he has a good eye and may go along with him sometimes when he lets one go by."

Only 29, Yost has been with Washington since 1944, except for two years in the Navy. His lifetime total of walks is 1,066. Only Ted Williams, with 1,572 through 1955, leads him in the American League.

Pitching Tips

(The following was written especially for AP Newsfeatures by Bob Lemon, veteran Cleveland Indian pitcher.)

By BOB LEMON
CLEVELAND (AP)—I throw all my pitches off the same grip. I place my right index and middle fingers between the seams.

Control is the main thing. If a boy has a real good arm he should try to become a pitcher.

I started as a third baseman and an outfielder. I pitched in Hawaii for the Army. Babe Herman was our manager. When Bill Dickey and Johnny Pesky saw me pitch they told Cleveland manager Lou Boudreau.

One of them said, "If Lemon can't make it as a third baseman or an outfielder he might make it as a pitcher."

Regular Turn Arrives
That was in 1945. After I got out of the service I started fooling around in the bullpen and then pitched batting practice in 1946. I won four and lost five that year.

In July of 1947 I guess I was about ready because I started taking my regular turn on the mound.

I relieved a lot at first. But I remember my first start in July of 1947 in Boston. I ran out of gas after six innings. I had an 11-5 record that year. In 1948 I became a pitcher, with a 20-14 record.

You can't learn to pitch overnight. It took me almost two full years and I had a good arm.

Don't try to play the position of an idol. If a boy idolizes a certain outfielder that doesn't mean he must become an outfielder. The boy should find out what position he is best suited for. If a boy is not too good at one spot he should try another. And above all, listen to advice.

Golf Tips
(The following story on use of the driver was written especially for AP Newsfeatures by Mike Souchak, winner of the 1956 Colonial Invitation at Fort Worth and the Azalea Open at Wilmington, N.C.)

By MIKE SOUCHAR
The driver is the easiest club in the bag because you hit a teed-up ball.

You have the entire width of the fairway. It is the least challenging of shots. You pick the ball off the tee cleanly and have no divot to worry about.

The margin of error is greater when you use a driver. It is the one club with which you can use your full swing. Often, even if you make a mistake, you will

TONY ANTHONY BEATS JOHNSON BY TKO IN 10TH

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Young Tony Anthony looks like a bet for the future in the light-heavy class if he can show a little more "tiger" in his style and more concrete in his jaw. That is if champion Archie Moore forgets the 176-pound class for the heavies.

A China chin hampered the 21-year-old New Yorker early in his career but he showed improved ability to take a punch last night while stopping rugged Tony Johnson in a TKO in 1:36 of the 10th round at Madison Square Garden.

Johnson is not a solid puncher but he swarms to the attack, firing away wildly. Two or three times he nailed Anthony on the chin with a long right, but instead of going down, Anthony moved away and resumed his boxing lesson.

Wanted To Learn

"I didn't feel much like knocking him out," said Anthony. "I wanted to box him and learn my trade."

The end came suddenly midway in the last round after Johnson, a 24-year-old New Yorker of Greek descent, had punched himself out in the early seconds. Anthony pinned his man against the ropes near his own corner and bounced his head from side to side with a flashing barrage. When Johnson sagged to the middle rope, trying to get away, Referee Mark Conn stopped it.

Almost Shutout
"He never should have stopped it," said Johnson later. "I was hurt more in the earlier rounds. I'd like to play him, punch for punch."

But Anthony, 170, wasn't playing Johnson, 175, punch for punch. He was boxing neatly, pin-pointing his punches while Johnson bulled in.

Anthony almost pitched a shut-out before he stopped his man. Referee Conn had it 9-0, Judge Joe Agnello 8-1 and Judge Nick Gamboli 7-1-1. The AP card was 8-1, all for Anthony and there were few dissenters among the 1,500 customers at the nationally televised bout. Johnson won the eighth on two cards and Gamboli called the fourth even.

Sports Car Driver Is Killed In Crash

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—A sports car driver sampling the course at nearby Harvey's Lake rammed a telephone pole and was killed yesterday.

The victim of the crash was Carl Gardner, Jr., 33, of Glenside, a Philadelphia suburb.

He was not entered in a sports car race scheduled for the course today. His application for a license with the Sports Car Clubs of America had not been completed. He was driving an Italian Fiat model borrowed from Rae Heppenstall, of Philadelphia, and had traveled about a quarter mile when he missed a curve and hit the pole. He was dead on arrival at Nesbitt Memorial Hospital in Kingston.

Gardner was a salesman for a Philadelphia engraving company. Surviving are his widow and his parents.

BUILDING AND FARM

Mrs. Rose Murren, 74, Heads Family Of 44 In Farm And 4-H Projects; First Woman To Be Given Pennsylvania Master Farmer Award; Still Active

(First Of A Series Of Two Articles)
Probably Adams County's "first family," as far as farming is concerned, is that of Mrs. Rose Murren, Hanover R. 4, chosen by the county agents as representative of 4-H "families" in the county.

There are now 44 Murrens, some out of the county, all engaged in farming in one way or another.

Heading the clan is 74-year-old Mrs. Rose Murren, who took a vacation this summer, and spent a month in Texas visiting relatives, leaving the home farm in the care of her children — all of whom have become farmers almost equal in ability to their mother, who was the first woman ever named a Master Farmer in Pennsylvania.

The clan started in 1907 when Rose Myers, of near Fairfield, married Edward Murren, of Mt. Pleasant Twp. For 16 years they were tenant farmers, most of the time on the Poist estate farm near McSherrystown.

In February 1922 Mr. Murren died, leaving Mrs. Murren a widow with nine small children, three boys and six girls. Mrs. Murren, shortly after her husband's death, bought a 140-acre farm on which to raise her nine children.

Lauded By Editor

How well she succeeded was outlined by M. G. Gilpin, editor of "The Pennsylvania Farmer," on January 21, 1942, when he presented her with a gold medal and special citation denoting her selection as a Pennsylvania Master Farmer. She was the fourth Adams

Countian and the first woman to receive that honor.

Gilpin said, "She has earned the distinction of Master Farmer by a record of farm operation and homemaking equalled only in exceptional cases by a man and woman working together whereas she alone for the last 20 years has shouldered the responsibility of making a good home for a large family and supplying the judgment, inspiration and the effort to make the farm profitable."

In her 74 years she has taken two vacations, one this summer,

MRS. ROSE MURREN

County Agricultural Extension Association has been in existence she has been one of its most active aides and promoters. Her farm has been chosen dozens of times for experiments and demonstrations by Pennsylvania State University specialists. She has won innumerable awards for corn, potatoes, pigs and dairy. She long has been a member of the 200-bushel corn club of the state; of the state 400-bushel potato club; the state "ton-litter" club and the produce of her farm has won many honors both in county competitions and state farm shows.

She was one of the first in the county to establish contour farming and today it is a showplace "where crops seem to grow better than most anyplace else in the county." She was among the first to have electricity on her farm, and among the first to use milking machines. Even birdsfoot trefoil, one of the best of the legumes, but extremely difficult to start in Adams County, blossoms profusely on the Murren farm.

Mrs. Murren, who had five years of formal schooling, three years of public school and two years of parochial school, credits the county farm agents with helping her make her farm a model for the county. The farm agents in turn place the credit on Mrs. Murren's never failing ability to work, and plan and carry out every project to which she turns her hand.

Her children say their mother is the best farmer of the family, and add that they do not expect she will ever stop working.

There were no 4-H clubs in the county when Mrs. Murren was of the age to participate — but when the clubs came into existence, she made sure that her children had the opportunity to take part and all of them did, with one exception. The exception was Bertha M., now Mrs. Paul Bowman, of Hanover R. 2.

Has Grand Champion

Bertha was left-handed, and when she sought to take part in the home economics 4-H club activities there was much teasing about her left-handedness. Bertha, just a youngster, decided that she didn't like the club, and left. But two of her three children are now in 4-H activities and the third will be when she reaches the age for 4-H work.

Francis J. Murren, Hanover R. D., oldest of the boys, was among the first of the Murrens to get into 4-H work. In 1926 the county formed the first 4-H Baby Beef Club. The club became the
